Dear Sir or Madam:

We are in receipt of your request for replacement of defective spare part(s). According to Dymind's policy, replacement will be sent after receipt of the defective part(s) you return. However, in view of your situation, we decide to give you a special authorization: you can have our early consignment just by signing this letter as a guarantee that you will send back all defective part(s) to our Hong Kong Representative Office within one month since you receive the new parts.

Dymind will bear the freight cost of sending new parts for the analyzer which is in warranty period, the Distributor should bear the freight cost of sending back the damaged parts. If the defective part(s) have not been altogether retrieved, any spare part(s) consigned to you shall then be deemed by us as your intended purchase instead of warranty replacement.

Please fill up the form, signed by your service manager or above, and send the scan copy to the Dymind service engineer who you are contact with.
